Good visibility is indeed needed to navigate the current volatile and turbulent environment so to keep the long term in focus and tolerate shocks such as the pandemic we have been experiencing for months now.

With the set back on the world economy inflicted by the lockdowns, and the uncertainty the coronavirus has brought with regards to the resumption of “normal” activity, we preferred to stick to our robust approach and decided not to stride from our path. After all, we set a 3 to 5 years horizon for our companies to prove their quality and thus recommend our investors a minimum holding period of 5 years as well.

We do not only rely on the measurement of quality and growth through two key metrics (high sustainability and reinvestments for the future), but also implement an ESG integration of criteria at all the levels of the investment approach. This robust, multi-step method has helped us seize out several themes offering structural growth drivers which proven to be resilient in the current circumstances thanks to their well-rounded risk management and foresightedness. Indeed, many needed to prove to have nerves of steel.

These have been the principles at the core of Carmignac Portfolio Grande Europe’s performance not only during the last few weeks, but since Mark Denham become lead manager ¹. European equities have been in fact misunderstood by investors for a long period, but Mark remained convinced of the fact that they still offer exciting themes and growth prospects. Only an attentive analysis and a continuous search can actually bring these gems to shine according to him.

A recognition to Mark’s professionalism and the many years he has spent in the industry looking at European equities, just came by Citywire ².

Mark Denham is AAA rated by Citywire for his rolling 3-year risk-adjusted performance across all funds the manager is managing to 31 March 2020.
